NIGHTFORTRESS

Neil Greene

Founder, NightFortress · Author of Exposed · Arlington, Virginia

Cybersecurity is a leadership discipline, not an IT problem. Neil gives executives the frameworks and language to act on it.

ABOUT NEIL

Neil Greene is the founder of NightFortress, a cybersecurity services firm in Arlington, Virginia, and the author of Exposed: Inside Risks and the New Architecture of AI Defense. He advises executive leaders on AI governance, cybersecurity risk and operational resilience, and speaks where security, leadership and AI strategy meet. His sessions trade jargon for decisions an audience can act on the same week.

SPEAKING TOPICS

Exposed: AI risk and the new leadership mandate
Why security models built for large enterprises fail growing organizations, and what replaces them.

Governance before tools
Decision rights, usable guardrails and boundaries for AI that protect the business without slowing it down.

Visibility before control
Finding hidden exposure across identity, cloud services, applications and data before an attacker does.

Resilience under pressure
Leadership composure, communication and operational stability when an incident is under way.

Workshop · AI risk reset
A half-day working session: governance gap map, exposure snapshot, automation review and a 90-day plan.

AUDIENCES LEAVE WITH

- Why AI has broken traditional security models, and what replaces them
- A way to gauge their own organization's real exposure
- Governance steps they can take before they leave the room
- The language to lead security conversations with a board

BUILT FOR

- Executive leadership teams and boards
- Private equity portfolio companies
- Business conferences and chambers of commerce
- Technology leadership events

CREDENTIALS

CISSP CRISC MBA, IT Management BS, Computer Information Systems

Exposed
Inside Risks and the New Architecture of AI Defense

Organizations Neil has worked with

AT&T · Booz | Allen | Hamilton · Schneider Electric · THINKDMG · eduruna · WARRIORWEEK

BOOK NEIL nightfortress.com/speaking

info@nightfortress.com · 202-909-8237